Published by the City of Knoxville's Office of Neighborhoods to report news important to Knoxville's residential neighborhoods. News & calendar deadline: 5 p.m. Mondays.

1. City Council Will Meet Tomorrow, Not Today

The regular City Council Meeting scheduled for September 29, was moved to Wednesday, September 30 at 7:00 pm, due to today's primary election.

2. City Residents: Vote Today!

Today --- Tuesday, Sept. 29 --- is Election Day in Knoxville.

Please support the democratic process and vote! Polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. To find out if you are registered, and where you should vote, contact the Election Commission at 215-2480 or visit www.knoxvotes.org.

On the ballot are the offices of Mayor, four seats on City Council, and the Municipal Court Judge. Mayor Madeline Rogero is running unopposed on the ballot for her second four-year term, but there is a qualified write-in candidate by the name of Jack Knoxville. Municipal Judge John Rosson is running unopposed.

City Council candidates are incumbent George Wallace, who is uncontested for At-Large Seat A; incumbent Marshall Stair and challenger Pete Drew for At-Large Seat B; incumbent Finbarr Saunders and challengers Kelly Absher, Paul Bonovich and David Williams for At-Large Seat C; and (for primary voters in District 5 only) incumbent Mark Campen and challenger Jennifer Mirtes for the District 5 seat.

3. Neighborhoods Schedule National Night Out Events

So far, 17 neighborhood organizations have scheduled events for National Night Out on Tuesday, Oct. 6.

They include Chilhowee Park, Cold Springs, Dandridge Avenue, Cumberland Estates West, Edgewood Park, Harrill Hills, Holston Meadows, Michael Meadowview, Moss Creek Villas, Murray Drive/Wilkerson Road, Norwood, Old Sevier, South Woodlawn, Tillery Place Condos, View Park, West Haven Village and Woodale/Central Avenue.

Some groups are observing the event at other times. The Cumberland Estates neighborhood will hold its annual chili fest from 5:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 1, at the Cumberland Estates Recreation Center. Holston Meadows will host a neighborhood meeting at 6 p.m. Monday, Oct. 5 at the Milton Roberts Recreation Center. And Boright Area Neighborhood Watch will meet this Saturday, Oct. 3, at its usual location.

Groups observing National Night Out by encouraging members to turn on porch lights are Black Oak Ridge, Boright Area, Delrose Drive, Seminole, Stratford Park, and Top of the Ridge.

You can still register your event with the KPD Safety Education Unit by notifying Neighborhood Watch Coordinator John Morgan at jmorgan@knoxvilletn.gov or 215-1519. This will ensure that KPD schedules officers to attend your event. Be sure to give the name and phone number of your contact person and organization, the time your event will begin and end, and the exact location.

4. Meeting to Discuss Proposed Expansion of H-1 Zoning in Parkridge

Former Mayor and Sixth District City Council Member Daniel Brown will conduct a public meeting next month to provide constituents additional opportunity to learn about the proposed expansion of the H-1 overlay district in the Parkridge neighborhood.

The meeting will be held at 6 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 15, at O'Connor Senior Center, 611 Winona Street. Kaye Graybeal, the historic preservation officer for the Metropolitan Planning Commission, will speak.

5. Take a Sentimental Journey: Historic Parkridge Home Tour

The Parkridge Community Organization next month will host a 1945-Era Home Tour with a focus on residents during the Swing era immediately after World War II.

The event will take place from 1-6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 25. The 11 homes on the tour --- built between the 1890's and 1945 --- are good examples of the ongoing revitalization of the Parkridge neighborhood. In addition, a walking tour of 20 homes not open to the public will be included. The walking tour will focus on the history of the homes and their former occupants in 1945.

Tickets are $10 per person if purchased in advance and $12 on the day of the event. Children under 12 are admitted for free. Parking is available at the Ashley Nicole Park, 620 Winona Street.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at K-Brew, Saw Works Brewery, Three Rivers Market, and www.parkridgecommunity.wordpress.com. Walking is necessary and many houses have steps. Parkridge is a bikeable neighborhood and tour-goers are welcome to ride bicycles.

For more on the tour, email historicparkridge@gmail.com or call 865-951-6614.

6. KAT Director to Speak at Neighborhood Advisory Council

The city bus system, the Neighborhood Small Grants Program, and the 2016 Neighborhood Awards and Networking Luncheon will be among the topics discussed at the October meeting of the Mayor's Neighborhood Advisory Council (NAC).

NAC will meet from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the Cansler YMCA, 616 Jessamine Street.

Dawn Distler, director of Knoxville Area Transit, will provide an overview of the system, along with KAT's efforts to reach out to various parts of the Knoxville community and to increase ridership.

In addition, staff from the Office of Neighborhoods will solicit ideas from NAC members for the next Neighborhood Awards and Networking Luncheon that will take place on Saturday, March 5, 2016, at the Knoxville Convention Center. The next round of the Neighborhood Small Grants Program will also be discussed.

Meanwhile, at its last meeting, by an 8-3 vote, the NAC elected not to serve in an advisory capacity or make recommendations to City Council, the Metropolitan Planning Commission and other public bodies.

At the September meeting, the city's Law Department notified the NAC that such advocacy could subject the NAC to the state's Open Meetings Act just like City Council itself, meaning that NAC members would be restricted from deliberating with other NAC members regarding matters relevant to NAC business or that could end up on an NAC agenda.

Because individual members of the NAC wished to be able to speak with one another on neighborhood matters outside of NAC meetings, they decided that the NAC will not provide advice to public bodies such as City Council and MPC. However, the NAC will continue to advise the Mayor and the City Administration. NAC meetings will continue to be public meetings, and citizens are welcome to attend, ask questions and voice their views on neighborhood-related issues.

7. Students to Offer Energy Saving Tips in Mechanicsville

An effort to help Knoxville citizens save on their utility bills continues this month in the Mechanicsville neighborhood.

From Tuesday, Oct. 6, through Thursday, Oct. 15, teams of students will visit approximately 100 homes in Mechanicsville to share energy efficiency tips and to offer residents a new LED light bulb for their front porch.

The students are enrolled in a Career Readiness Program sponsored by a nonprofit organization named SEED (Socially Equal Energy Efficient Development).

All residents are invited to attend a free "Savings in the House" workshop to learn more about how to stop wasting energy and take control of utility bills. The workshop will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20, at the Eternal Life Harvest Center, 1801 Western Avenue.

For more information about this outreach event, contact Stan Johnson, SEED's Executive Director, at (865) 766-5185. For energy saving ideas, visit www.savingsinthehouse.com.

"Savings in the House" is a project of the Smarter Cities Partnership, which is led by the City of Knoxville. Funding for this outreach activity was provided by Partners for Places – a project of the Funders' Network for Smart Growth and Livable Communities.

8. Help the City Win --- and Save on Your Utility Bills

The City of Knoxville is competing against 49 other mid-sized cities in the Georgetown University Energy Prize --- and you can contribute to the effort.

This Prize offers $5 million to the city with the greatest reduction in energy consumption. Knoxville Scores, a coalition of nonprofits and governmental agencies, promotes residential energy efficiency to help Knoxville win this two-year contest that ends in December 2016.

Knoxville Scores' winning game plan is for Knoxville homeowners to get a TVA home energy audit through TVA's eScore program. The energy audit provides the homeowner with recommendations on how to save on energy bills, and eScore offers rebates on the most effective efficiency measures.

Knoxville Scores has a goal of 1000 completed eScores by the end of this year, and by the end of August, Knoxville had already more than 850 completed! An initial comparison ranked Knoxville 13th in the contest.

If you live in an older home and want to spend less on your heating and cooling bills, this contest is for you! To learn about more about how to "be a winner," visit the Knoxville Scores website.

9. Local Youth Initiative Celebrates with an Open House

The Knox County Health Department is teaming up with Five Points Up and others on a program called KAPPI (Knox Adolescent Partners in Prevention Initiative).

The program, which is working on a campaign called "My Body My Future," serves middle-school-aged girls who learn about healthy relationships and choices through fun activities.

To celebrate a successful first year, the KAPPI partners will hold an Open House at the Boys and Girls Club at Walter P. Taylor Homes on Thursday, October 8, from 4-6 p.m. There will be refreshments and entertainment in the gym. The public is invited.

In addition, KCDC (Knoxville's Community Development Corp.) has donated one of the Walter P. Taylor apartments so that the girls can have their own space, which the girls have decorated and have made their own, calling it their 'clubhouse'.

For more, contact Sarah Bounce at 215-5187 or visit www.mybodymyfuture.com.

10. Neighborhood and Government Calendar

Include your neighborhood-related event or meeting in this space. Call 215-4382.
